

Audrey Hudson, DVM, DACVO

Ophthalmology

Dr. Audrey Hudson earned both her Bachelor's degree and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from Texas A&M University. After practicing small animal medicine and surgery for three years, she pursued a specialization in veterinary ophthalmology. Dr. Hudson completed a three-year residency in veterinary ophthalmology in Dallas, TX, and became board-certified by the American College of Veterinary Ophthalmology in 2016. While she enjoys all facets of veterinary ophthalmology, Dr. Hudson has particular interests in surgical interventions for ocular diseases and the management of neuro-ophthalmic conditions.
