

Lauren Williams Molinari, DVM

Emergency & Critical Care

Dr. Lauren Williams Molinari, DVM, graduated from Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine in 2013. Her passion for veterinary medicine began at the age of four when the death of her favorite animal, a white tiger named Suri at the Audubon Zoo, deeply impacted her. Inspired by this experience, Dr. Molinari has dedicated her career to providing compassionate care to animals.

Along with her husband, Dr. Molinari is the proud mother of one son and shares her home with two beloved dogs. Outside of work, she enjoys reading, discovering new restaurants, and traveling.
